

Alex Seeley visit to Marmora area 1997

ONLY IN CANADA YOU SAY

During the months of August and September of 1997, a team of interested archivists and historians embarked on the mammoth task of transcribing all the heritage information presently inscribed on every monument and flat marker located at the Marmora Protestant Cemetery. The project was headed by Ann Rowe of Foxboro . Ann wrote an article in the Marmora Herald dated September 6th, 1997 in which she stated;

" More surprising, however was the constant arrival of visitors from far afield who were researching their own roots ".

In September of this year, I had the pleasure of meeting a married couple from England who had planned for years to visit Canada - in particular Deloro, Ontario. His mission was to retrace his fathers footsteps in the area and to try to uncover some missing information concerning Jessie & Rose Selley. Alec and Marilyn Selley are from Wivenhoe, England. He recently wrote a letter thanking me for assisting them on their one day trip and tour of the Marmora and Deloro area.

Alec writes;

" I thought the best way of covering our holiday was to write as it happened like a diary. So here goes 17 days in the life of the Selley's in Canada ".

We left our residence in Wivenhoe at 0630 and boarded a 747 aircraft at Heathrow Airport at 1330. With the 5 hours time difference we arrived at Toronto Phearson Airport at 1530. Instead of taking the usual planned tour of Toronto the next morning we decided to head for Deloro.

Alec writes;

" We had no idea of how far the journey was, only that Deloro was near Marmora.

The man at the bus station said " whatever do you want to go to Marmora for " , as if it was at the end of the earth .

The return bus ticket from Toronto to Marmora cost about $160.00 for the both of us. We spent the first evening walking along the Lakefront by the CN Tower looking forward to tomorrow ".

The next morning at 0800 we left Toronto, stopping at Peterborough, Norwood, Havelock and finally arriving at Marmora at 1120.

Alec writes;

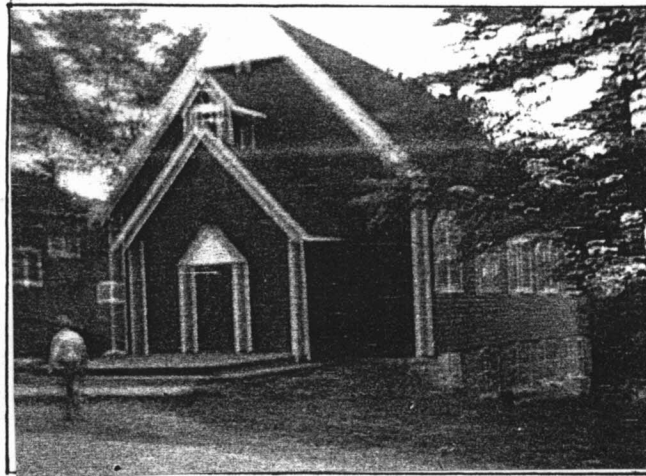

" The first thing I noticed was the museum as I was carrying an old postcard which was my fathers when he visited here back in 1952, when it was the old Post Office. The building looked just the same yet 45 years had moved on "

We went across the road to the Post Office. We asked the gentleman behind the counter ( Postmaster - Douglas Collison) if he could tell us the way to Deloro. He said we might as well forget it, as there are no taxis or buses and that it was about 5 miles down the road. Since we had travelled all this way we were not going to be put off now - so we decided to walk it. Eventually we saw the sign for Deloro. A lady very kindly offered us a lift the rest of the way. She said her husband was English and that they were selling their home ( Mrs Clarke). We declined her offer of the lift and carried on down the road until we reached Deloro.

O'BRIEN AVE, DELORO, ONTARIO

We stopped and looked at the plaque and read about the history of the village. The photograph of the Community Centre was different from the one I was carrying that my father had taken in 1952.

DELORO HALL - 1952

We spoke to a gentleman who lived at the end house on the right. The house with the Deloro sign in his garden (Douglas & Eleanor Lynch's residence). He was helpful and told us that at 1500 a lady would open the local library where I may be able to obtain records of the past. The librarian arrived ( and she was amazed at some of the photos I had and the story about my father being born in Deloro.

Alec writes;

" My grandfather, Frederick Selley emigrated to Canada after World War 1. He took his wife Beatrice and their only son at the time with them.

Together with his brother Jessie and sister Rose they settled in Deloro. Both Frederick and Jessie worked for awhile at the Deloro Smelting & Refining Co.

Jessie lived with his sister Rose for awhile in Deloro. Jessie never went to England with the rest of them. It would be interesting to know what ever happened to the two of them ? "

W. J. COTTRELL - 1952

F. SELLEY & W. COTTRELL BOTH WORKED IN THE SAMPLE ROOM AT DELORO

As we approached the first bend leaving Deloro a car pulled up beside us, it was Carolyn Atherton who drove us back to Marmora. Carolyn dropped us back at the museum and said it was a pity that we could not meet up with Gerald Belanger as he would probably be able to help us.

ABANDONED CHEESE FACTORY - 1952
LOCATED ON LAJOIE ROAD, DELORO

While at the museum and looking through some old paper clippings the lady there ( Cathie Jones) recognized a name on the back of one of my fathers old photos which read " SCHWARMA'S HOUSE ". She said that her mother (Helen Mantle) had a friend with that name and that she would investigate that for us.

SCHWARMA'S HOUSE - 1952

Without notification Gerald showed up in front of the Historical Foundation Museum. He had decided to do some research in town. After telling him about my story and that I thought that my great aunt Rose might be buried in Marmora, we decided to go to the Marmora Protestant cemetery grounds. After some searching he was able to take us to her grave site. It was amazing to think that we had come all the way from England hoping to find something like this. It appeared that Rose had married James Hammond. The inscription on small upright monument reads;

LO, I AM WITH YOU ALWAYS

JAMES HAMMOND

1877 - 1939

ROSE SELLEY

HIS WIFE

1883 - 1972

After leaving the cemetery grounds, Gerald gave us a wonderful and detailed guided tour of Marmora & Deloro. It included a visit to ; the abandoned Marmoraton Iron Mines ; the remains of the old Ironworks ; Crowe River and dam site ; Booster Park and Crowe Lake area ; Laura Foley's (deceased) residence on McGill Street and a visit to Annie Callery's residence near Deloro.

Mrs Callery's mother-in-law was Beatrice Callery / nee Feeney. She helped Doctor Thompson deliver my father. My father Thomas Sellery was born on June 15th, 1921 at Deloro. Annie was amazed at the story and the old photo of Beatrice that I had on me which my father had taken in 1952.

MY FATHER'S BIRTHPLACE - DELORO

Gerald recently found an article in the Marmora Herald dated May 22nd, 1952 which he sent me.

" Petty Officer Norman Selley of the British Navy, visited his aunt, Mrs James Hammond, on tuesday of this week. He was born at Deloro, where his father was employed, but the family returned to England when he was about 3 months old.

His father served in both World Wars and was a prisoner for about four years in the Second War. He died as a result of his imprisonment.

He had five days leave and was anxious to meet his aunt and see his birthplace. He also called on Mrs B. Callery, who nursed him when he was born . Officer Selley is greatly impressed with Canada and the abundance of food and other things here ".

ROSE HAMMOND AT
LAURA FOLEY'S RESIDENCE - MARMORA
1952

After leaving Mrs Callery's residence we went to the Bella Vista Restaurant and had a wonderful meal. We later went for coffee before boarding the coach at Terrion's Esso Garage. We got back to our hotel at 0040. It had been a great day.

FOOTNOTES;

Alec & Marilyn for the rest of their tour in Canada visited; Niagara Falls; Ottawa ; Montreal ; Calgary ; Banff ; Jasper National Park ; Kamloops ; Victoria and Vancouver.

On day 15 Alec wrote;

" Marilyn & I went to Stanley Park in the morning and hired a couple of mountain bikes. In the evening before sunset we walked to a place not far from Stanley Park called English Bay. The beach there is called Sunset Beach, you can see how it got its name. The sky was almost as if it was on fire. This had to be one of the most beautiful sights we have ever seen ".

On day 17 Alec wrote;

" Our stay in Canada was a wonderful adventure meeting people who were so polite and friendly everywhere we went ".

" I shall never forget the people of Marmora & Deloro, they were so helpful and friendly ".

Alec and Marilyn have shared their journey in Canada with you and the photos of Marmora & Deloro taken by his father on a very similar visit in 1952, with the hope that someone reading the Marmora Herald newspaper will be able to help them fill in the missing genealogical pieces of the Selley family tree. McMASTER CEMETERY

W. LOT 9, CONC. 8,

There is a circular grove of lilacs in a field measuring about 25 feet x 25 feet. By 1878 Will McMaster owned this property, but his surviving relatives (he was a bachelor) say that no McMasters were buried here. The closest guess is that the surname 'COONS' was associated with this burial site. The earliest known, John COON(S) was a resident of the area by at least the 1860's. On inspection of the grove, no markers were visible. Since the site has once again been allowed to grow over with lilacs, the stones within could be cleared, ones from the field or possibly fieldstones to mark graves. With the woodchuck holes, it is impossible to tell.

The current landowner who is descendant from McMasters, says that he once cleared up the lilacs, but found nothing that could be grave markers. He had found the site ringed by posts and a barbed-wire fence. He would have liked to clear away everything and put his field in order, but "just in case it was a cemetery I decided to leave it as it was".

Information on this burial site is urgently requested.

CUMMINGS-HORTON FAMILY PLOT

P. LOT 10, CONC. 1,

This cemetery is on the farm of Mr. John Sheridan, who graciously permitted me to check out the remaining stones. They are piled around a lone pine tree in the centre of a ploughed and cultivated field. Many stones are broken and tumbled, making it difficult to piece together the names & dates. Several large bases are still there, but some stones were removed by interested descendants for safe keeping.

The land was crown until 1831 when it was deeded to a Mr. CUMMINGS. The property passed on to his son-in-law, (????) HORTON for one dollar. The present owner, John Sheridan has lived here since the 1940's and has restored the very picturesque stone house that was on the property, which possibly dates from the early 1800's as there was a mill of the same stone design that had been erected very early.

To reach this cemetery, stop at the Fire Hall or Municipal Offices in Stirling. You will see the large pine tree directly behind the Fire Hall

Engine and Driver Went Through Bridge.

Belleville Ontario of Saturday: William Seeley, a well-known blacksmith residing at Ivanhoe, had quite a thrilling experience yesterday afternoon. He was in charge of a traction engine and while crossing the wooden bridge over Moira Lake, a short distance this side of Madoc, the outfit went through the bridge into the lake, taking Mr. Seeley along also. The latter had a very narrow escape, being under the water over two minutes. Considerable difficulty was experienced in making the rescue, but to-day Mr. Seeley is about as usual and naturally very thankful for his lucky escape. The bridge, which is in Madoc township, was a county bridge on the Madoc gravel road and the damage will be considerable. The engine is still in the lake."

A Letter From the West

Kindersley, Sask., Dec. 29, 1909.
To the Editor of the News-Argus and Friends who may be interested.

I am here in what is called the wild and woolly west, and I suppose there are those who wonder at my being out here and having Mrs. Seeley running the business there at home for me. But if you could just be here for one day and see the land we have and the chance we have, you would not think it strange of me leaving my business and coming west for six months' homesteading. I will say this much, I would not exchange my prospects here for the best farm in the township of Rawdon, and I have nothing, you might say, here yet but the entry papers to show that I have an option on 320 acres of land. My homesteading duties are not hard to fulfil. It means six months out of each year, and an entry fee of $10 on each 160 acres, and at the end of six years $480. Not only that, but the land here is as good land as ever lay outdoors, and there is plenty of the very best land lying on either side of me that can be bought at a reasonable price early in the future. It is what they call the Hudson Bay land.

As for my views, I think there are a lot of you Eastern Canadian people who are standing in your own light, to let the Americans come in here and get the best of this land when you might have at least part of it yourselves, for this certainly will be the country in the near future. For one instance, at this place here we call Kindersley, on the 5th of October there was not a nail driven. On that day there was a sale of town lots, and when I was there the last of November there was then built up six lumber yards, three coal yards, three hardware stores, one drug store, and about seven other stores, one bank, two blacksmith shops, one livery stable, three feed barns, four boarding houses, and one hotel that was estimated to cost when finished fifteen thousand dollars. Any man that could drive a nail was getting from 45 to 60 cents an hour, and you could hear almost nothing but hammers and saws going all the time. A man was here at my place this week who told me I would not know the place now, it had grown so, and the building is still going on as when I was there. It looks to me as though this is the country, and any person wishing to write to me, my address is at the head of this letter, and if my services are of any use to you I am at liberty.

I wish to thank the farmers in the vicinity of Stirling, Hoard's and Campbellford for the way they have responded to our post card system of buying hogs. I was never more surprised than when I heard from Mrs. Seeley of the shipments of hogs made. Do not be afraid to ship your hogs on the strength of the cards, as the price quoted there will be paid every time, and before leaving for the West I arranged for as good a market as in Canada for all the hogs Mrs. Seeley can buy and ship. She will hold the trade, and you know I will be there when hogs are plentiful to carry on the business as usual.

Thanking the Editor for the space I have taken, I remain,

Yours truly,

ALBERT H. SEELEY.

Word has been received of the death in Weyburn, Sask., of Mrs. Levi Seeley, formerly of Marmora. Deceased is a sister of Mrs. John McCracken, Marmora, and Mr. Samuel Phillips, Malone. The funeral will take place from the home of the latter at 2 p. m. on Sunday, Sept. 6th. Service in Zion church.
